Get tested – only if you have coronavirus symptoms

If you're self-isolating because someone you're in contact with has tested positive, you must self-isolate for 14 days. You don't need to book a test, unless you go on to develop symptoms yourself.

Remember the main symptoms of coronavirus are:

High temperature

Continuous new cough

Loss of smell

Loss of taste

Book your test

online at nhs.uk/ask-for-a-coronavirus-test or call 119

As more people are tested, the number of cases is likely to increase. The most important steps to stop further spread of the virus are:

- If you have symptoms, self-isolate at home for 10 days
- Don't wait – book a test immediately
- Your household members need to self-isolate for 14 days
- If you test positive, you'll be contacted by the NHS Test and Trace team, and they'll advise anyone you've had contact with to self-isolate too
